other Directors of the Bank, the CEO, officials, staff members, and some customers were present.

Since only a few banks in Mumbai had arrangements for stamp duty payments, people were facing a lot of inconvenience. To address this, the Government of Maharashtra recently issued a circular permitting some banks to collect stamp duty. With the Government's permission, the Bank of Maharashtra Bank has now made this facility available, so local residents will no longer need to go elsewhere for stamp duty payments. This will provide great convenience to the Bank's customers as well as local residents. This service has been started at the Bank's main branch in the Eastern Railway Station during working hours and the Bank has appealed to people to make use of it.

Delhi. In a significant step for green energy and rural development, Union Home and Cooperation Minister Amit Shah will inaugurate India's first cooperative-owned plant for producing compressed biogas (CBG) this Sunday. The event will take place on October 5, 2025, at 1:30 pm at the Sanjivani University Ground in Kopargao, located in Maharashtra's Ahmednagar district. The plant has been built by the Sahakar Mahashahi Shankarrao Kolhe Sahakari Sakhar Karkhana, a sugar cooperative.

Alongside the biogas plant, a new Spray Dryer and a facility to make Potash Granules will also be launched. The inauguration will be followed by a large meeting for farmers and perspective members. Maharashtra Chief Minister Devendra Fadnis will be present at the ceremony. Several other state ministers and leaders will also attend. The new biogas plant turns farm waste, like leftover sugarcane tops and crop stalks, into a clean fuel. The fuel can be used in vehicles, industries, and homes, much like the commonly used CNG.

The Chairman of the cooperative, Vivek Bipindada Kolhe, lauded that this project puts the cooperative at the forefront of sustainable and innovative rural projects. He highlighted that by converting waste into fuel, the plant will help reduce the use of traditional fossil fuels, cut down on air pollution, and create new ways for farmers to earn money from their agricultural waste.

This initiative supports the national government's programs aimed at creating energy from waste. The other new units, the Spray Dryer and Potash Granules facility, will use by-products from the sugar process to make useful agricultural fertilizers, ensuring that very little goes to waste.

The cooperative, which started in 1960, has grown from a simple sugar mill into a multi-faceted business. It has previously expanded into electricity, ethanol, medicines, and compost. This new biogas and fertilizer project continues its mission of building a self-sufficient rural support the national economy.

Washington: The United States is weighing the issuance of a $1 coin that would feature President Donald Trump as part of planned celebrations to mark the nation's 250th anniversary of independence in 2026, Treasury officials confirmed on Friday.

Conceptual drawings circulated by state officials on social media reveal a coin design with Trump raising a clenched fist on one side, flanked by the words "fight, fight, fight" — a phrase that became politically symbolic after the former president survived an assassination attempt last year.

The other side of the program also displays a profile of Trump with the word "Liberty" above and the inscription "1776-2026" below, according to images posted by treasurer Brandon Beach. The Treasury has not yet finalized the design, but a spokesperson described the preliminary draft as a tribute to the country's resilience and democratic spirit in the face of challenges.

The proposal comes under a 2020 law that empowers the Treasury Secretary to order the production of $1 coins in 2026 with designs linked to the semicentennial celebrations. In 1976, the bicentennial, was similarly honored with a $1 coin featuring the Liberty Bell and the moon, drawn from a nationwide competition, while the reverse bore the image of President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

At present, further details on the Trump coin are on hold due to a prolonged federal government shutdown, which has frozen many official activities. Legal lawmakers, remain divided over the proposed coin bill, while the House of Representatives and the Senate have not yet passed the bill.

White House officials said they did not know whether Trump had personally seen the coin design, but expressed confidence in his approval of the tribute. It is approved, the coin would represent a historic moment: the first time a president appears on circulating U.S. currency as part of an official commemoration.

Mumbai: Uttvasv CZ Gold Jewels Limited (Uttvasv, The Company), (NSE Code: UTSSAV) one of the leading manufacturers of 18K, 20K, and 22K CZ gold jewellery, plain casting jewellery in 22K, paper casting jewellery in 22K and 24K diamond jewellery, and lab-grown diamond jewellery in 18K, has been assigned credit ratings by Care Edge Ratings for its bank facilities.

- Long Term Bank Facilities – CARE BBB; Stable (2 Cr)
- Short Term Bank Facilities – CARE A3+ (147 Cr)

The ratings reflect the company's strong fundamentals and highlight its financial discipline and business stability. Care Edge Ratings has factored in the promoter's extensive experience in the gold jewellery industry, the company's strong capital structure with healthy debt coverage indicators, its growing scale of operations with moderate profitability, and an adequate liquidity profile. The ratings reaffirm The Company's potential for sustained growth and further strengthen stakeholder confidence in the company's market position. Earlier, the company's credit ratings were assigned by Infomercs Ratings. These ratings have now been withdrawn after Uttvasv provided the required no-objection document, which was duly acknowledged by its bankers and submitted to Infomercs on time.

Commenting on the achievement, Mr. Pankajkumar Jagtap, Managing Director of Uttvasv CZ Gold Jewels Limited said, "We are pleased with the ratings assigned by Care Edge Ratings, which reflect our strong fundamentals and disciplined financial management. These ratings are an important endorsement of our efforts to consistently strengthen our financial stability, improve operational performance, and scale our business with discipline." Uttvasv remains committed to creating value through sustainable growth and operational excellence. The recognition also enhances the confidence of its bankers and investors, and further motivates us to deliver on our long-term vision."

Mumbai: India captain Shubman Gill was on Saturday announced as the team's new ODI captain. Gill has replaced Rohit Sharma in the role just months after he took over as the Test captain from the 38-year-old. Rohit and former captain Virat Kohli, have both been named in India's squad for the upcoming Test series against Australia away from home which starts on October 19. Shreyas Iyer, meanwhile, has been named vice-captain of the team.

The Indian Express learns that Gill's appointment as captain came after the selectors spoke to the Test skipper informing him that, keeping the big picture in mind, they wanted him to captain the side in the South Africa tour of South Africa in 2027 to be played in South Africa, Zimbabwe and Namibia. Gill also attended the selection meeting on Saturday.

Chairman of selectors, Ajit Agarkar, while addressing the media after India's victory over West Indies at the Narendra Modi Stadium was asked what the idea was in replacing Rohit as captain. "It's practically impossible to have three different captains for three formats, just in terms of planning," Agarkar noted before adding: "Obviously, at some stage, you've also got to start looking at when the next World Cup is. It's (ODI) also a format which is played the least now. So you don't get that many games to actually give the next captain to give them that much time to prepare himself or plan."

The selectors had also kept head coach Gautam Gambhir in the loop about the change of leadership in ODI cricket; from Rohit to Gill. The baton passing from Rohit, who is 38, to Gill, who is over a decade younger, is a major change of guard. Suryakumar Yadav was retained as the captain for the three-match T20 series post the ODI series in Australia.

In his maiden Test series as captain, Gill amassed 754 runs in five matches in England, averaging 75.40 with four centuries. The hard-fought series for the Anderson-Tendulkar Trophy ended in a 2-2 scoreline. Even in the T20 squad, Gill is a vital member as he opens the innings with Abhishek Sharma, his Punjab teammate. Gill has played 55 ODIs and scored 2775 runs at an average of 59.04 with eight centuries, including 205 against New Zealand in Hyderabad in 2023.
