Regressive nations using terror as political tool: PM

"Today, the world is facing an increased threat of regressive thinking and extremism. In such a situation, the entire world must make science-based rational and progressive thinking the basis for development," he said, outlining India's approach in its school curriculum through the Atal Tinkering labs.

On the other hand, he said, "countries with regressive thinking that are using terrorism as a political tool. These countries must understand that terrorism is an equally big threat for them also."

"It is absolutely essential to ensure that Afghanistan's territory is not used to spread terrorism and for terrorist attacks. We also need to be alert and ensure that no country tries to take advantage of the delicate situation there, and use it as a tool for its own selfish interests. At this time, the people of Afghanistan, the women and children of Afghanistan, the minorities of Afghanistan, need help. And we must fulfil our duty by providing them with this help," he said.

In his 21-minute speech, Modi also took on China's expansionism in the Indo-Pacific and its capacity to undermine international institutions. He cited the example of the manipulation of World Bank's ease of doing business rankings.

"Our oceans are also our shared heritage, and that is why we must keep in mind that we must only use ocean resources and not abuse them. Further, our oceans are also the lifeline of international trade. We must protect them from the race for expansion and exclusion. The international community must speak in one voice to strengthen a rule-based world order. The broad consensus reached in the Security Council during India's presidency shows to the world -- the way forward for maritime security," he said, fresh from the Quad summit which dealt with the concept of a free and open Indo-Pacific.

He used Beijing's bullying in global governance to argue in favour of reform of international institutions.

"If the United Nations wants to remain relevant, it will need to improve its effectiveness, and enhance its reliability. Today, all kinds of questions are being raised about the UN. We have seen such questions being raised, related to the climate crisis. And we also saw them during Covid, the proxy war going on in many parts of the world, terrorism, and the recent Afghan crisis have further highlighted the seriousness of these questions. With regard to the origin of Covid, or regarding the ease of doing business rankings, institutions of global governance have damaged the credibility they had built, which was a result of decades of hard work," he said in a sharply-worded but carefully-crafted critique of the UN system.

"It is essential that we constantly strengthen the UN in order to safeguard global order, global laws and global values," he said.

He concluded his address by quoting Nobel laureate Rabindranath Tagore who called for "boldly proceeding on your path of good deeds. May you overcome all weaknesses and doubts". This message, he said, is as relevant to every responsible nation, as it is to the United Nations.

The Prime Minister was the first speaker at the UNGA on Saturday. External Affairs Minister S Jaishankar, NSA Ajit Doval, Foreign Secretary Harsh Vardhan Shringla, India's Permanent Representative to the UN in New York T S Tirumurti and the Indian Ambassador to the US Taranjit Singh Sandhu were present at the General Assembly during the Prime Minister's address.

'Make vaccines in India'

MOURNING THE LOSS of lives lost due to the global coronavirus pandemic, the PM reiterated India's commitment to start giving vaccines to needy persons in other countries, even as he gave a clarion call to manufacturers to "Come, Make Vaccine in India".

India's vaccine delivery platform - COWIN, is providing digital support for hundreds of millions of vaccine doses in a single day, he said. India had stopped the export of COVID-19 vaccines after the second wave of the pandemic hit the country hard in April this year. "India, which lives on Sewa Paramo Dharma (service is the main duty), is engaged in vaccination development and manufacturing despite limited resources. I want to inform UNGA that India has developed the world's first DNA vaccine, which can be administered to all people above the age of 12 years," Modi said at the UNGA. "Another mRNA vaccine is in its late stages of development. Scientists in India are also engaged in the development of a nasal vaccine for Corona. Realising its responsibility towards humanity, India has once again started giving vaccines to the needy of the world," he said.

Vehicle scrapping biz now open to all

A clutch of companies including Tata Motors is learnt to have already signed initial pacts with the Gujarat and Assam governments to set up businesses in the area. Testing and scrapping infrastructure are crucial for meaningful implementation of the scrapping policy, which is expected to give a boost to the automobile industry, besides contributing significantly to cutting vehicular air pollution and creating thousands of new jobs.

Explaining the rationale behind such distinction (regulation of ownership of ATs and free entry into scrapping business), Amit Varadan, joint secretary at ministry of road transport and highways, told FE: "An ATs is like a doctor who will prescribe whether a vehicle is fit for the road or not after testing. There could be an element of conflict of interest if a vehicle manufacturer or such other persons are involved in testing. But, when an ATs renders one vehicle unfit, the role of the scrapping centre is limited to scrapping the vehicle and hence, no regulation of ownership is called for there."

ATs will use mechanical equipment to automate various tests required to check fitness to a vehicle. The fitness test for a commercial vehicle is required to be done every two years for the vehicle age of up to eight years, and every year for the vehicles older than eight years. Fitness test for a personal vehicle is to be done at the time of renewal of registration (after 15 years) and repeated after every five years.

If fitness and its registration certificates are renewed, a private vehicle can ply on the roads even after 20 years of first registration and a commercial vehicle beyond 15 years. However, increased fitness fees and re-registration charges would act as a deterrent for an owner to retain old vehicle.

On failure to obtain the fitness certificate, the vehicle would be impounded by the transport authorities, declaring that it as 'end of life vehicle'. For commercial vehicles above the prescribed age threshold, mandatory fitness test and re-registration will be required from April 2023 onwards and the regime will kick in for personal vehicles in phases from June 2024 onwards.

Unveiling the policy last month, Prime Minister Narendra had said the policy could give a leg-up to India's high-growth automotive industry and the downstream units that rely on it, boost consumption demand and help cut vehicular air pollution.

A carrot-and-stick approach is to be followed under the policy, whereby scrapping of 'old vehicles' (those that passed the thresholds mentioned above) will be promoted with assorted incentives: Scrap value at 4-6% of ex-showroom price of new vehicle, 5% discount on purchase of new vehicles, road tax rebate by states, at the rate of 25% for personal and 15% for commercial vehicles and waiver of registration fee for new vehicle purchased on scrapped vehicles.

Also, there will be disincentives and penalties for non-compliance: Hike in registration and fitness certificate renewal fees, stiff penalties for delay in renewals, green tax by states, and, of course, mandatory automated fitness test and de-registration for the old vehicles

Quality stamp for electronics must; DoT lists items for test

"We welcome and compliment Phase III, IV of mandatory testing, which was our pending demand since 2010 and renewed in 2017 after Telegraph Rules were amended to legalise mandatory testing," NK Goyal, chairman emeritus, TEMA said.

Plant load factor to double by FY25

Reaping the benefit of lower fuel rates, around 2,600 MW of state-owned gas-based plants of Gujarat located near import terminals (Pipavav, Uran, Dhuvaran, Uran and Hazira units) increased their PLF levels 2-3 times from the previous year.

Electricity production from Torrent Power's 1,200 MW Dgen unit and NTPC's 657 MW Gandhar gas plant — also located in Gujarat — have more than doubled from last year. On the other hand, most of the units at Lanco Kondapalli (1,476 MW), GMR Rajahmundry (768 MW), GVK Gautami (465 MW) — all located in Andhra Pradesh — continue to lie idle. With LNG prices rising again in the ongoing fiscal, PLF of gas-power plants have dropped to 19.2% in April-July period. The recent slump in utilisation is a consequence of high LNG price, when it crossed $9-10/mbtu, which has resulted in a negative impact on consumption. "Multiple fuel sources should be used to hedge the power generation risks, and all the current installed capacity is not necessarily available capacity," a senior industry official said, adding that "there are days when less than 1,000 MW renewable capacity is available in Gujarat out of the total installed green capacity of 14,000 MW in the state".

According to the government's submission to a parliamentary committee in 2019, to make gas-based power commercially viable, the cost the fuel — including transportation costs and taxes — should not be more than $6/mBtu. However, the calculations were based on contemporary plant efficiencies of 50%-55%.

With latest technologies the plant efficiency can increase to 62% and with such efficiencies, even at gas price of $8/mbtu, the variable cost of gas-based power can be around Rs 3.6/unit which can compete with other conventional power sources. In FY10, driven by availability of cheaper domestic gas from RIL's KG-D6 block, gas based power plants were operating at a 67% PLF, HDFC Securities pointed.

Before the offshore fields on the eastern coast of the country started producing at the end of 2020, gas power sector had sought for "separate bucket for allocation/auction of gas" and wanted some quantity of the fuel produced to be earmarked for power plants. Domestic natural gas production increased 19.2% to 2,898 mscm in August on a year-on-year basis, mainly due to higher production from Reliance Industries and BP's ultra-deep-water field in the KG-D6 Block of the Krishna Godavari basin. Production also commenced on August 31 from state-run Oil and Natural Gas Corporation's U1B deep-water gas located in KG-DWN 98/2 block, which has an estimated peak production of 1.2 mscmd.

Auto players step on CNG CVs; offer wide range of models

However, this may not be possible unless the entire fleet shifts to CNG. Madan Sabnavis, chief economist at CARE Ratings, explained, "Usually, there are fixed freight rates between two destinations, such as Mumbai to Delhi, and these impact prices of commodities. For freight rates to change, the entire fleet has to shift to CNG."

Undaunted by coercion: Quad msg to Beijing

Prime Minister Narendra Modi, US President Joe Biden, Australian PM Scott Morrison and Japan's outgoing PM Yoshihide Suga met for about two hours and pledged to ensure a "free and open" Indo-Pacific which is also "inclusive and resilient" at a time when China's assertiveness is growing in the region.

And for the first time, the Quad leaders discussed Afghanistan and agreed to deepen their cooperation in South Asia — an important development since Beijing has been expanding its strategic footprint in India's neighbourhood.

Their joint statement said: "In South Asia, we will closely coordinate our diplomatic, economic, and human-rights policies towards Afghanistan and will deepen our counter-terrorism and humanitarian cooperation in the months ahead in accordance with UNSCR 2593."

"We denounce the use of terrorist proxies and emphasised the importance of denying any logistical, financial or military support to terrorist groups which could be used to launch or plan terror attacks, including cross-border attacks," they said, in a thinly-veiled reference to Pakistan.

"We stand together in support of Afghan nationals, and call on the Taliban to provide safe passage to any person wishing to leave Afghanistan, and to ensure that the human rights of all Afghans, including women, children, and minorities are respected," the joint statement said.

The Quad leaders also signed on a new statement called the "Quad Principles on Technology Design, Development, Governance, and Use" — one of the important principles stated: "Technology should not be misused or abused for malicious activities such as authoritarian surveillance and oppression, for terrorist purposes, or to disseminate disinformation."

This is aimed at countries like China, but assumes significance given the debate in India over the alleged use of the Pegasus spyware for surveillance.

Building on the virtual summit in March this year, the Quad leaders agreed to cooperate in a range of fields — vaccines, infrastructure, semiconductor supply chain, cyber security, satellite data, and develop expertise in STEM. And, in each of these fields, Beijing has been perceived to be aggressively pushing its agenda, and the Quad, with its soft power, is seeking to provide alternatives to the world.

India at UNGA: Pakistan is 'arsonist' disguising itself as 'fire-fighter'

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
United Nations, September 25

PAKISTAN, WHERE TERRORISTS enjoy free pass, is an "arsonist" disguising itself as a "fire-fighter", and the entire world has suffered as it nurtures dreaded terrorists like Osama bin Laden in its backyard, India has said in a blistering retort after Prime Minister Imran Khan raked up the issue of Kashmir in his address to the UN General Assembly.

"We exercise our Right of Reply to one more attempt by the leader of Pakistan to tarnish the image of this august Forum by bringing in matters internal to my country and going so far as to spew falsehoods on the world stage," first secretary Sneha Dubey said in the UN General Assembly on Friday.

"While such statements deserve our collective contempt and sympathy for the mindset of the person who utters falsehood repeatedly, I am taking the floor to set the record straight," the young Indian diplomat said, slamming the Pakistani leader for raking up the Kashmir issue in his video address to the 76th session of the UN General Assembly.

"We keep hearing that Pakistan is a 'victim of terrorism'. This is the country which is an arsonist disguising itself as a fire-fighter. Pakistan nurtures terrorists in their backyard in the hope that they will only harm their neighbours. Our region, and in fact the entire world, has suffered because of their policies. On the other hand, they are trying to cover up sectarian violence in their country as acts of terror," Dubey said.

Khan, in his nearly 25-minute address, had spoken about the August 5, 2019 decision of the Indian government on the abrogation of Article 370 as well as the death of pro-Pakistan separatist leader Syed

Ali Shah Geelani.

In the Right of Reply, Dubey strongly reiterated that the entire Union Territories of Jammu & Kashmir and Ladakh "were, are and will always be an integral and inalienable part of India. This includes the areas that are under the illegal occupation of Pakistan. We call upon Pakistan to immediately vacate all areas under its illegal occupation."

Khan and other Pakistani leaders and diplomats have consistently raked up the issue of Jammu and Kashmir and other internal matters of India in their addresses to the UN General Assembly and other forums of the world organisation.

Pakistan's attempts to internationalise the Kashmir issue have gained no traction from the international community and the Member States, who maintain that Kashmir is a bilateral matter between the two countries.
