Tussle over IAS officers appraising forest officers

SC Asks SG To Resolve Fight Between Two Cadres

TIMES NEWS NETWORK

New Delhi: The Supreme Court on Wednesday sought assistance of solicitor general Tushar Mehta in resolving the grievance of Indian Forest Service officers against their performance appraisal reports (PARs) being written by Indian Administrative Service (IAS) officers as per the last June office order issued by Madhya Pradesh govt.

A bench of Justices B R Gavai and K Vinod Chandran was dealing with a petition filed by Gaurav Bansal who has challenged the state's new mechanism for PAR of IFS officers that changed the PAR authority from divisional forest officers (DFOs) to principal chief conservator of forests (PCCF). IFS officers are objecting to their PARs being written by non-forest officers.

Justice Gavai said IAS officers tend to boss over IFS officers and there is always a

Punjab official faces contempt notice for not implementing 1996 pension scheme

New Delhi: The Supreme Court on Wednesday issued a contempt notice to the Punjab chief secretary for failing to implement a three-decade-old pensionary benefits scheme in the state.

Observing the court couldn't be taken for a ride, a bench of Justices Abhay Oka and N Kotiswar Singh asked the chief secretary to answer why contempt proceedings should not be initiated against him for the violation of the undertakings.

The bench said if the official felt some other officer was at fault, he was "free to file an affidavit" giving the names or other details of the officers responsible for the court to initiate action. The matter would be heard again on March 24.

tussle between these two cadres. The IFS officers feel that the IAS officers do not know the intricacies of the forest conservation and wildlife protection steps taken by them and hence their performance appraisal by IAS officers is bound to be error prone.

"It should be resolved," the bench said. Mehta said he will deliberate on the issue and discuss with the stakeholders but hinted that the administrative hierarchy is well established and who would write which officer's PAR is provided for.

The SC had earlier taken exception to the June 29, 2024, office order and warned that if it is not withdrawn then it may initiate contempt proceedings for issuance of the order in violation of the SC's orders.

MP IFS Association had written a protest letter to CM Mohan Yadav highlighting the critical role played by forest service officials in wildlife and forest conservation and argued that the new PAR mechanism would demoralise these officers.

UP man gets 10-year jail term for raping Dalit girl

Maharajan: A court has sentenced a man to 10 years of rigorous imprisonment for raping a Dalit girl around nine years ago. Special Judge Vinay Kumar Singh convicted Haider

(20) on Tuesday for raping the 14-year-old girl, assistant district govt counsel Vijay Narayan Singh said. The judge also imposed a Rs 3,000 fine on the convict and said that if the amount remain unpaid, Haider will have to undergo an additional one-month jail term. According to the prosecution, the incident occurred on Aug 28, 2016. Based on a police complaint by the rape survivor's mother, a case was lodged.

Bandicoots kill infant in AP

Palnadu (Andhra Pradesh): A four-month old infant boy was bitten to death by bandicoots at Ravvaram village in Palnadu district here on Wednesday, said a police official.

The baby was left alone at home, a makeshift tarpaulin tent, when the incident happened around 9 am, police said.

"The stepmother of the infant went out to bring idli (breakfast), leaving the baby alone at home. When she returned, she saw some bandicoots around the infant, who was bitten by them," the official said.

Meanwhile, police registered a case under BNS Section 194 over the infant's death.
