

Nithyasree's veena concert strong on melody

Dr. S Nithyasree is a dedicated young vainika who keeps honing her skills with great passion for classical music. Her concert under the aegis of Ganamukundhapriya was yet another testimony to her commendable proficiency.

Muthiah Bhagavathar's 'Siddhivinayaka' in Mohana Kalyani paved the way for the nearly one and half hour concert. The special features of Nithyasree's concert in this programme were her choice of two ragas where she dwelled deep into the depth and beauty of the melodies. The first one was Kalyanavasantham; the raga alapana carried all the soft and the strong shades of the raga. Can there be a better choice than Tyagaraja's 'Nadaloludai' to follow it up? Nithyasree invested her creativity to highlight the raga image further with her wide range of swarakalpana at the end. The main raga of the evening was Gangeyabhooshani. A melody which is not heard frequently on stage. A Melaraga with its close resemblance to popular Chala Natta, this raga has its own charm. Nithyasree carefully navigated through her raga essay and tanam and presented Tyagaraja's 'Evvare ramayya'. The swara segment which converged in the final with panchamam as the focal note was commendable. Nithyasree included several other catchy kritis too in her presentation. 'Sadasaleswaram' in Bowli by Muthuswami Dikshitar, 'Chittam irangatha' in Sahana and 'Enna tavam seithanai' in Kapi by Papanasam Sivan, 'Saraswati namostute' in Saraswati by GN Balasubramanian, and a Thillana in Anandabhairavi by Tanjavur Sankara Iyer. Dr. S Nithyasree is blessed with a good voice too; it would be more pleasing if she sings along with her playing in some places to highlight the beauty of the kritis especially while playing when they are very rare like 'Evvare ramayya'. B Sivaraman and N Guruprasad on mridangam and ghatam supported Nithyasree with ample understanding and also including a brief tani also. The concert was dedicated to the memory of the founders of Ganamukundhapriya A. Gopalakrishnan and Srimathi Janaki Gopalakrishnan.
