Rangolis on doorsteps to masters on our walls, AOI celebrates spirit of Indian art as everyday way of life

Pics: Sanjay Hadkar, Uma Kadam, Sl. Shanth Kumar

"Art has existed since prehistoric times. When early humans could not speak, they could draw. Three moons, bow and arrows, and animals. It meant hunters out for three nights. Art was their language. Art is life. Life is art

Paresh Maity | ARTIST

"Some paintings were outstanding, and that gives you hope and joy. Art is created with love, purpose and bhakti. Like Gaitonde's paintings. They give you the feeling that humans were created for such an experience —Laxman Shreshtha | ARTIST

Times News Network

In India, art isn't something you go looking for. It's everywhere. In the intricate carvings of temple pillars, the delicate embroidery on a grandmother's sari, the bold colours of a truck's painted bumper, the everyday rangoli at someone's doorstep.

This deeply entrenched consciousness of art and aesthetics in the objects we use and the spaces we inhabit in daily Indian life made for enriching conversations at the launch of the Art of India's (AOI) fourth edition at Mumbai's NCPA on Sunday where artists, collectors, and connoisseurs came together to celebrate the very idea that art isn't separate from life itself.

"Aesthetics have been part of our civilization forever," said industrialist Ajay Piramal, tracing India's artistic roots back to the Vedas. "It's in the way we dress, the way we design our homes, in our temples, and even in the way we celebrate. It's there in our music, dance, sculpture. The Samaveda talks about it. The first Raag Bhairavi is said to have come straight from the mouth of Lord Shiva. There are hundreds of objects dedicated solely to dressing up a woman—foot scrubbers, combs, intricately designed mirrors. Even in a simple Indian wedding, one sees the appreciation of art and beauty." Yet, somewhere along the way, he feels we started looking outward for artistic inspiration instead of valuing our heritage. However, he sees hope in the govt's new education policy that includes aesthetic literacy as a key component.

"I've just started collecting art and this exhibition is a fantastic way to learn more about it. I love the mix of artists – there are a lot of masters and many emerging ones. It was tough to choose but I ended up getting a couple of pieces, including one from an upcoming artist recommended by the team

Vishal Kampani | MD OF JM FINANCIAL

"Appreciation of art is appreciation in the mind, not appreciation of the bank balance. That's what art truly means. We don't buy art as an investment. The return on investment is the memories and joy we get from being surrounded by it every day, waking up to it, and going to sleep with it, for the perspectives it offers each time

Exhibition continues till Feb 23 from 11.30am to 8pm daily at NCPA

For author Shobhaa De, art has always been about connection. "Coming from a middle-class Maharashtrian family, I've always felt that Mumbai lives with art," she said. "We don't have to go to a museum to find it. Even something as simple as a rangoli made at home every morning is an act of artistic creation. It's how we pass down an awareness of aesthetics to the next generation."

De recounted her first modest brush with collecting her first piece of art. "I couldn't afford an original so I bought a high-quality print of Amrita Sher-Gil's 'Three Girls' from Lalit Kala Akademi. It cost just a few hundred rupees, but it's been with me for over five decades. Now, my grandchildren look at it and that's how appreciation for art grows, by living with it."

Beyond the personal, Sabyasachi Mukherjee, director general of CSMVS museum, dwelled on how art shapes the soul of a city, too. "At a recent museum reopening, Maharashtra chief minister (Devendra Fadnavis) said something that resonated — the greatness of a city isn't measured by its tall buildings or how many rich people live there but by its cultural heritage. That's what we need to understand and open up discussions on how cultural institutions can contribute."

Beyond the speeches, even the art showcased at the event curated with both thought and skill by Alka Pande kick-started interesting conversations on sustainability, development and the need to give India's folk and tribal the pride of place it deserves in the Indian art pantheon. While masters like F N Souza, Arpana Caur and J Swaminathan got their due, AOI also cast the spotlight on some hidden gems like the dying art of kaavi, a mural art form found across the Konkan coast. For the show, artist Janardhan Rao Havanje had transported the geometric and floral art form usually found on limestone walls to a canvas. His kaavi Krishna with earthy reds and indigo highlighted the beauty of the art form. "Besides painting, I also document and restore kaavi art. As buildings are demolished, there are very few sites that remain. So the attempt is to persuade people to preserve and restore them," says the Udupi-based artist who is deeply passionate about the cause. Lalitha Krishnan, potter and debutante sculptor from Ranikhet, is equally committed to a different cause – that of capturing humanity's impact on the environment. "My sculpture of the Himalayan grey langur is inspired by the langurs that come to my garden to feed on my fruit trees. Their numbers are dwindling every day," says Krishnan. From Krishnan's leaping langurs to Bandana Jain's eco-friendly horses made with recycled cardboard, Indian artists are clearly keen to inspire change through art.

As artist Nabibakhsh Mansoori whose oil on canvas 'When The Seasons Change' is on display at AOI, put it, "Politics divides people but art brings them together. This space compels society to think differently," said Mansoori, who sees art as more than just expression but a way to centre oneself. "The more creative minds come together, and the more people appreciate art, the calmer their minds will be. It's a form of meditation."

ART BYTES

"I think it's all very evocative. So many different kinds of artists. I love the beautiful sculptured busts in the opening part of the exhibition. It's just wonderful to have this kind of creative experience. I think it's important for people in Mumbai to have access to this, especially for kids and young adults

Raell Padamsee | THEATRE PRACTITIONER

I think the best part about coming here, compared to many other spaces, is that the artists are actually present. And it's wonderful to hear directly from them about what led them to create the piece. It makes the experience of looking at the painting so much richer when the artist explains the choice of colours or their process. Also, the inclusion of neurodiverse artists within the art world is so important

Sonali Gupta | PSYCHOTHERAPIST

This is a great show. There was a time when one had only heard of the progressive artists. Now, one can see how young people are really wanting to expose themselves to art and thereby giving younger artists a chance

For first time, Naxals haven't opposed panchayat polls, says Chhattisgarh CM

Times News Network

Raipur: Voting for first phase of panchayat elections got underway in Chhattisgarh on Monday, with nearly 76% voters casting their ballot. Chief minister Vishnu Deo Sai said this was the first time that Maoists haven't dared oppose rural elections in the state.

"For the first time in 40 years, people of more than 130 polling stations in the worst Maoist-affected districts of Sukma and Bijapur cast their votes and participated in the festival of democracy," said CM Sai.

Locals of Puwarti, the native village of dreaded Maoist commander Hidma, also turned out to vote.

Women wait to cast their votes for the Chhattisgarh local election

"Reports of the end of Naxalism and the victory of democracy bring a sense of deep satisfaction," the CM said, adding: "In Bastar division, the influence of the ballot is now overtaking the bullet. This is the first time that Naxals have not opposed panchayat elections in Bastar."

Sai said this had been possible due to the establishment of more than 40 new security camps in highly sensitive areas by govt. "The final nail in the coffin of Naxalism, which has been a cancer for Bastar, is being hammered in by our 'double engine' govt," the CM said.

The most recent security camp — a CRPF forward operating base — was opened in Bijapur district's Pujarikanker area on Feb 13. The camp is strategically located to aid in the construction of a crucial road linking Bijapur with Usur and Pamed, one of the worst insurgency-affected regions. "As per the resolve of Prime Minister Narendra Modi and home minister Amit Shah, the eradication of Naxalism in Bastar is set to be achieved by March 2026. This is the victory of democracy over the forces of terror, Jai Bastar, Jai Chhattisgarh!" said CM Sai.

Voting began at 6.45am and ended at 2pm in Bastar division. The results will be announced Tuesday.

2 more GBS deaths in Maha take India toll to 21

Steffy Thevar & Chaitanya Deshpande | TNN

Pune/Nagpur: India's death toll from Guillain-Barré Syndrome (GBS) in the current outbreak rose to 21 as two more fatalities – one each in Pune and Nagpur – were reported on Monday.

With this, Maharashtra's death toll has risen to 17. Andhra Pradesh, Assam, Tamil Nadu and Bengal account for a death each.

Maharashtra health department on Monday listed the death of a 34-year-old resident of Wagholi in Pune at Sassoon General Hospital on Saturday evening as a GBS fatality. With this, nine people have died in Pune since the outbreak of the rare neurological disease in the city on Jan 5.

An official said he was brought to the hospital after he experienced a tingling sensation in the limbs followed by loss of strength in both legs, which progressed to the upper limbs within six hours. "This loss of power in all limbs progressed rapidly over the next three days and by Feb 8, he had lost strength in the neck, respiratory and facial muscles. He had trouble swallowing too," the official said, adding that the patient never regained this strength.

One more GBS death was confirmed in Nagpur, taking the total count in the city to two. The victim, an 8-year-old boy, was admitted to Government Medical College and Hospital (GMCH) Nagpur on Jan 16 and he succumbed to the illness on Feb 10. However, at the time of death, his GBS diagnosis was not confirmed. At GMCH, several patients are still battling GBS. Among them is a seven-year-old girl who is on mechanical ventilation and continues to be in a critical condition.

Meanwhile, Union junior minister for AYUSH, Prataprao Jadhav, Monday hinted at the possibility of travel restrictions in affected areas if the disease is found to be contagious. "If the disease is spreading from one region to another, imposing travel restrictions may become necessary. Discussions between the central and state health departments are ongoing to address the situation," Jadhav told reporters in Buldhana.

Agencies should probe disbursal of $21 mil for 'voter turnout': BJP

Times News Network

New Delhi: With Elon Musk-led DOGE's disclosure that USAID contributed $21 million to the Election Commission of India allegedly for boosting voter turnout, BJP on Monday demanded a probe into the whole affair.

"So, DOGE has discovered that USAID allocated $21million for 'voter turnout' in India, a euphemism for paying voters to cast their votes to effect regime change. Veena Reddy was sent to India in 2021 (ominous?) as head of USAID's Indian mission. Post Lok Sabha elections 2024 (presumably her voter turnout mission done), she returned to the US. Pity because investigating agencies here could have asked her some questions about who this money was given to for applying it to voter turnout operations," BJP MP Mahesh Jethmalani said on X. This came a day after S Y Quraishi, who has served as chief election commissioner, confirmed that the EC signed an understanding with USAID. However, the former CEC claimed that the arrangement involved no funding by USAID, something which belies the disclosure made by DOGE (Department of Government Efficiency) but may strengthen Musk's case about the opaqueness of the USAID's funding and functioning.

Jethmalani stressed that in July 2021, USAID had named Veena Reddy as its mission director in India, the first Indian-American to hold the post.

"She worked in close tandem here with US ambassador Eric Garcetti in executing the agency's objectives. Doubtless he will plead diplomatic immunity if asked about the voter turnout modus operandi. And of course, USAID's foreign objectives were directed by its ex-secretary of state (Anthony Blinken at the time) who will shed no light on the matter," he said.

Cong against fgn interference in domestic poll process

New Delhi: Congress on Monday said it is against any foreign interference in the domestic election process and that the Modi govt should investigate the claims of USAID money coming to India and punish if there are any guilty persons. Congress spokesman Ajay Maken said the money being talked about came in 2012 and BJP spokesman Amit Malviya has said "who gains from it? Not the ruling party". He said BJP was in the opposition in 2012 and came to office in 2014, and Congress did not gain from it, adding that the issue should be probed. He said then CEC SY Quraishi has already given his version, and Congress has nothing to do with it. At the same time, Maken said USAID funds of $5,200 million have come into India in the last 10 years with BJP in office, and there should be an investigation into the use of that money. He said those guilty of any malfeasance should be brought to book. TNN

HC orders CBI probe into ₹5,832cr beach mining scam

Chennai: Madras HC Monday ordered a CBI probe into the alleged Rs 5,832 crore illegal beach mineral mining along the coasts in Tirunelveli, Thoothukudi, and Kanyakumari districts, reports Sureshkumar K.

Court directed CBI to investigate the suspected political nexus and the role of policy-making authorities in conspiring with private mining companies. The triangular link is undeniable here; it has become systemic corruption, court added, concluding a decade-old suo motu PIL proceedings.

"A multidisciplinary probe is required to enquire into the crucial findings of high concentration of monazite found in the processed stocks and whether such a prescribed substance was exported by the mining companies ought to be investigated, since it is a matter concerning national security," it said. Toddler killed in celebratory firing at wedding procession in UP

Noida: A two-and-a-half year old boy was killed after a man allegedly opened celebratory fire during a wedding procession here, police said on Monday. A case has been registered against the accused and efforts are on to arrest him, officials said.

The incident occurred around 10 pm on Sunday at Agahpur village when a wedding procession was underway at the residence of Balveer Singh, police said. Deputy commissioner of police Ram Badan Singh said during the procession a man, Happy, claiming to be from the groom's village opened fire.

Police said Vikas Sharma and his family were watching the wedding procession from their balcony when a bullet struck his child. The boy was taken to a hospital where doctors declared him dead during treatment, the DCP said.

In Karnataka's Mandya district, a four-year-old boy died and his mother sustained severe injuries after a 15-year-old boy accidentally fired a loaded gun while he was playing with the firearm at Nagamangala taluk, said police. The deceased is identified as Abhijeet, a child of migrant labourers from West Bengal, they said. The incident occurred around 3.45 pm on Sunday, in a poultry farm where the family has been employed, police said. PTI

High faecal coliform levels in Prayagraj at Kumbh: CPCB

NGT Says Report Points At Several Non-Compliances

Devotees take a dip at Triveni Sangam during the Maha Kumbh in Prayagraj on Monday

New Delhi: The national green tribunal was informed on Monday, through a report by the CPCB, that various locations in Prayagraj during the ongoing Maha Kumbh were not conforming to the primary water quality for bathing with respect to the level of faecal coliform.

Faecal coliform, a marker of sewage contamination, has a permissible limit of 2,500 units per 100 ml, according to the central pollution control board. An NGT bench was hearing the issue of preventing sewage discharge into the Ganga and Yamuna rivers in Prayagraj.

The bench noted that the CPCB had filed a report dated Feb 3, pointing out certain non-compliances or violations. "The river water quality was not conforming to the primary water quality for bathing with respect to faecal coliform (FC) at all the monitored locations on various occasions. A large number of people bathe in the river at Prayagraj during the Maha Kumbh Mela which eventually leads to an increase in faecal concentration," it said.

The bench also noted that the Uttar Pradesh pollution control board had not complied with the tribunal's earlier direction to file a comprehensive action taken report. The tribunal observed that the UPPCB had only filed a covering letter with certain water test reports.

The tribunal allowed one day for the UP counsel to examine the report and file a response. PTI

PIL in SC seeks measures to curb Delhi-like stampedes

The stampede at the New Delhi railway station claimed 18 lives and left 15 other injured on Saturday

New Delhi: Two days after a stampede at the New Delhi Railway Station claimed 18 lives and left 15 others injured, a PIL was filed on Monday in the Supreme Court seeking immediate action to prevent such disasters in the future.

The PIL, filed by advocate Vishal Tiwari, has sought a direction to the Centre and other authorities for implementation and consideration of a 2014 report of the National Disaster Management Authority (NDMA) on "Managing Crowd at Events and Venues of Mass Gathering". "Issue writ of mandamus... to all respondents Union and the states to coordinate and work collectively by constituting an expert committee which shall frame guidelines and measures to prevent the incidents of stampede," the plea said.

It also sought directions to the Indian Railways to take measures for the safety of passengers at railway stations and platforms by widening corridors, constructing broader overbridges and platforms, ensuring easy access to platforms through ramps and escalators, during peak hours, any changes in arrival or departure platforms should be strictly avoided.

The plea said despite the availability of modern technology, artificial intelligence, and sufficient security personnel, stampedes continue to occur, reflecting a failure in preparedness and public safety measures.

It also criticised the disparity in safety efforts, questioning why high-end technology and intelligence are deployed for VIPs while common citizens remain vulnerable to such incidents. It further sought a direction to the authorities including the Railways to submit a status report on the stampede at New Delhi Railway Station. PTI

Five injured in Delhi stampede still in hospitals

New Delhi: Five people injured in the New Delhi railway station stampede last week are still undergoing treatment in hospitals here, officials said on Monday.

The stampede, which occurred on Saturday as a massive crowd rushed to board trains to Prayagraj, left 18 dead and 15 injured, according to govt officials. Of the 15 injured, 13 were admitted to the Lok Nayak Jai Prakash Narain Hospital and two to another facility.

While most have been discharged, four patients remain at the LNJP - two in the orthopedic department, and one in the ENT department. Another patient was readmitted on Monday, hospital officials said. Fifteen bodies were kept at the LNJP Hospital, two at the Lady Hardinge Medical College and Hospital, and one at the Kalawati Saran Hospital. PTI

Modi allowed travel sans tickets: Women to DRM

Patna: A senior railway official in Bihar was left stunned when a group of rural women claimed that they had been allowed to travel without tickets by Prime Minister Narendra Modi. The video of the conversation between Danapur divisional railway manager Jayant Kumar and pilgrims heading for Prayagraj Maha Kumbh, at the Buxar railway station bordering Uttar Pradesh, has gone viral on social media.

The DRM was inspecting the station on Sunday in view of the higher-than-expected rush of pilgrims visiting the mega congregation, which has also been blamed for the stampede at New Delhi railway station. Upon noticing a group of women, of various age groups, standing near railway tracks, the official asked them what were they doing there. They told him that they wanted to catch a train for Prayagraj.

"Do you have tickets", asked the DRM, and when the women replied in the negative, he said quizzically: "Who told you that you can travel without tickets?"

Pat came the reply "Narendra Modi told us so", evoking a grin from bystanders even as the DRM took a few seconds to regain his composure. He told the women, "You are mistaken. Neither the prime minister nor any other authority has allowed this. If you wish to travel, you must do so after getting tickets, lest you may be charged with breaking the law."

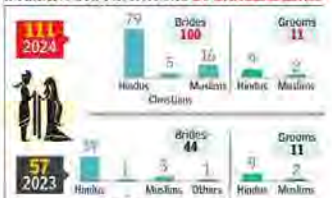
Later, talking to reporters, the DRM said, "For Maha Kumbh, we had made arrangements on a scale that we do at the time of any festive rush. This time what is unusual is that the rush has continued till a time when (footfall) was expected to have thinned down. Nonetheless, we are prepared."

The Maha Kumbh will officially come to a close on Feb 26, coinciding with the Maha Shivratri festival.

According to official estimates, more than 50 crore people have visited Prayagraj so far for a holy dip in the Sangam, the confluence of Ganga, Yamuna and mythical river Saraswati. PTI

In turbulent year, B'deshis cross over to marry in WB

Subhojyoti.Kanjilal
@timesofindia.com



Kolkata: If ties with volatile Bangladesh seem as intractable as the proverbial Gordian Knot, look no further than the rush of men and women crossing the border to tie the knot.

The number of Bangladeshi citizens marrying Indians in 2024 has nearly doubled compared to 2023. Till Dec 20 2024, 100 Bangladeshi women applied to marry Indian grooms, while 11 Bangladeshi men applied to marry Indian women. This was the highest number of applications in a year by Bangladeshis in half-a-decade and accounted for nearly 23% of the 486 such applications for marriage registrations in Bengal since Jan 2019. It is not immediately known how many among these Bangladeshis are going to stay in India.

According to the Citizenship Act of 1955, a person can apply for citizenship if he or she "is married to a citizen of India and is ordinarily resident in India for seven years before making an application for registration". Besides, children whose either parent is an Indian can get Indian citizenship by birthright. "This could be one of the reasons for the spike in 2024, but it can be proven conclusively after we tabulate the post-Aug 2024 applications and those before that," an official said. Bangladesh's political upheaval had peaked with Sheikh Hasina's exit as PM on Aug 5, 2024.

Senior state officials point to two reasons for the sudden spike in applications. First, such marriages make it easier to apply for Indian citizenship, and second, an Oct 2023 rule-tweak by the Bengal govt has made it easier for foreigners to wed Indians.

Bengal, unlike other states, mandates that marriages with foreigners must be registered under section 15 of Special Marriage Act, 1954. This means couples have to first give a notice and stay in Bengal for the entire 30-day notice period before solemnising and registering the marriage. Bengal does not have the option of solemnising the marriage first and then getting it registered, which is done in other states.

HR co chief murders mother, wife, son, ends life in Mysuru

Lawrence Milton | TNN

Mysuru: A mechanical engineer who was running an HR consultancy firm allegedly hanged himself to death after murdering his mother, wife and son in their apartment in Mysuru on Monday in a ghastly incident that sent shockwaves through the sleepy neighbourhood.

GM Chethan (45) was deeply in debt as he had borrowed nearly Rs 1 crore from different financial institutions, including private moneylenders, police said. Chethan's family was living in a flat in Vishweshwaranagar, and his mother lived alone in the next flat on the same floor. Police said a three-page note in English, written by Chethan and wife Roopali S, said they were facing financial difficulties of their own making.

Police said that between 2 am and 3am Monday, Chethan walked across to the house of his mother Priyamvada (65) and smothered her. In the next few minutes, he returned home and tied the legs and hands of Roopali (42) and son Kushal GC (16), a Class X student, and smothered them to death.

Around 4am, he sent a voice note to his younger brother GM Bharath, who is in the US, and admitted to killing all three members of his family in their sleep. He dragged the bodies of his wife and son to the hall and then hanged himself from the ceiling after wrapping a white shroud around his head, police said.

Bharath is said to have informed Chethan's in-laws in Mysuru about the unfolding tragedy. Chethan's father-in-law, D Sethuraman, rushed to their house at around 5am to find all four dead.

Chethan's family visited Gorur Narasimhaswamy temple in his hometown Gorur, Hassan district, Sunday. They had lunch at his in-laws' house in Mysuru before returning to the apartment. According to police, Chethan, who worked as a mechanical engineer in India and Dubai, returned to Mysuru around 2019 and started as a recruitment consultant to hire graduates to work for Dubai-based firms.

Woman dies by suicide after killing 4-yr-old daughter

Bengaluru: A 34-year-old woman died by suicide after allegedly killing her four-year-old daughter here, police said on Monday. Shruti, who was the president of Paragada gram panchayat, killed her daughter Roshni by hanging her from a ceiling fan using a dupatta and later died by suicide, they added. The incident occurred at Ramaiah Layout in Nagasandra on Sunday when Shruti's husband was not at home.

A suicide note recovered from the spot stated she was being harassed by her husband for dowry and that he had illicit relationship with another woman, police said. The police said the woman married Gopalakrishna in 2014. The couple had a strained relationship and as per the complaint filed by her family, Gopalakrishna who works as an auditor was allegedly involved in an illicit relationship with another woman, the police officer said.

Gopalakrishna's alleged affair caused trouble in the couple's marriage leading to frequent arguments, the complainant alleged. Following the incident, police said a case of abetment to suicide had been registered against the woman's husband. PTI

Convict gets two life terms for 2017 Goa rape-murder

Accused Had Confessed To The Crime But Later Retracted His Statement

Vikat Bhagat seen with police personnel after being sentenced to rigorous life imprisonment in Margao on Monday

Margao: A Goa court on Monday gave two life sentences to Vikat Bhagat, who was convicted last week for the 2017 rape and murder of a 29-year-old Irish national in Canacona. The sentencing brought closure to a legal battle that lasted eight years.

Additional district and sessions judge Kshama Joshi, who had convicted Bhagat on Feb 14, pronounced the quantum of punishment, sentencing the 31-year-old to two rigorous life imprisonments – one under IPC Section 302 (murder) and the other under 376 (rape).

"The sentence of imprisonment for life shall run concurrently," the order said, meaning that Bhagat will serve his natural life in prison. The court also imposed a fine of Rs 25,000 for each of these offences.

Additionally, Bhagat received a three-year sentence for destruction of evidence under section 201 IPC with a fine of Rs 10,000. Brought to court under heavy police guard, Bhagat received the sentence with stoic composure, his expression betraying neither distress nor remorse.

The victim, a former student of Liverpool John Moores University, was found dead in an isolated field in Canacona in March 2017. According to forensic reports, she suffered cerebral damage and constriction of the neck, which led to her death. The autopsy revealed severe injuries to her face and head from a broken bottle.

Lawyer Vikram Varma, who assisted the prosecution, expressed satisfaction with the verdict. "This has been a long trial, but justice has been done," Varma told reporters outside the courtroom. "The family is relieved that there is closure."

The case was particularly challenging as it relied heavily on circumstantial evidence. The prosecution's case was strengthened by substantial physical evidence. Police discovered injury marks on Bhagat's groin and thigh, believed to have been sustained during the assault. The victim's blood was found on his clothes and scooter, and investigators recovered a backpack containing blood-stained clothing near his residence in Canacona.

"Because there was no witness and he took her into the forest where he committed these crimes, it was a difficult task for the prosecution to put the circumstantial evidence together," Varma said.

CCTV footage captured the victim walking with Bhagat, whom she knew from previous visits to India, in the hours before her death.

Kokrajhar hosts first-ever sitting of Assam assembly outside capital

Kokrajhar (Assam): For the first time in Assam, a sitting of the legislative assembly was held outside the state capital, with Kokrajhar hosting the opening day's proceedings of the budget session on Monday.

Governor Lakshman Prasad Acharya, who opened the session with his speech, said the move to hold the sitting outside the state capital was aimed to bring the people of different parts together.

Chief minister Himanta Biswa Sarma, terming it the "highest point" of his career, maintained that the headquarters town of Bodoland Territorial Region (BTR) hosting it was a testimony of sustained peace and integration in the state.

The sitting was conducted in the Bodoland Territorial Council Legislative Assembly building presided over by Speaker Biswajit Daimary, making it the first-ever proceeding of the House conducted outside its own premise. PTI

'Delhi quake not tectonic, linked to weak rock layers'

New Delhi: An earthquake that shook Delhi early Monday was caused by "normal faulting", a type of ground movement often linked to underground water or past river deposits weakening the rocks, the National Centre for Seismology (NCS) said in a report. It also said that since 1993, the area within 50 sq km of Monday's epicenter has recorded 446 earthquakes ranging from minor (magnitude 1.1) to moderate (magnitude 4.6).

NCS head OP Mishra told PTI that it was not a tectonic earthquake, which refers to an earthquake that occurs when tectonic plates move. "Major faults like the Sohna or Mathura Faults did not trigger this earthquake," he said. He said the shallow depth of the quake (5 km) made the tremors more noticeable and even produced a sound as seismic waves travelled through the air. The earthquake of magnitude 4 hit New Delhi at 5:36am.

NDRF team during a mock drill to test their preparedness to handle earthquake, in New Delhi

The epicenter was near Jheel Park, Dhaula Kuan, about 10 km southwest of Red Fort, at a shallow depth of 5 km. The tremors were felt across Delhi-NCR and nearby states.

According to the NCS report, the earthquake occurred due to movement along a weak underground zone, known as a lineament, which runs in a northwest-southeast direction. This zone has structural variations that build up stress over time, leading to quakes.

Mishra said the region has a history of small to moderate earthquakes, with the strongest in recent memory being a 4.6 magnitude quake in 2007, about 8 km from Monday's epicenter. "The quake was caused by "normal faulting", a type of ground movement often linked to underground water or past river deposits weakening the rocks," the NCS chief said.

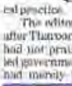
The shaking was strongest in areas with soft soil, like Lodhi Road, where the ground movement was amplified. Delhi is placed in seismic zone IV in the seismic zoning map of India, the second highest in the country.

Delhi region in northern India experiences frequent tremors due to both far-field and near-field earthquakes from the Himalayan and local sources, respectively. PTI

Cong mouthpiece in Kerala writes editorial criticising Tharoor's remarks

Thiruvananthapuram: Veekshanam Daily, Congress party's mouthpiece in Kerala, on Monday published an editorial criticising Congress leader Shashi Tharoor — without naming him — for praising the entrepreneurial growth of the state under the Left government. It urged him not to betray the expectations of thousands of party workers ahead of the upcoming local body elections.

The strongly worded editorial stated that an anti-incumbency wave was prevalent in the state and that attempts to suppress it by those responsible for fuelling it represented a 'distorted' political practice.



The editorial came a day after Tharoor clarified that he had not praised the CPI(M)-led government in Kerala but had merely highlighted the state's progress in the startup sector. On Sunday, Thiruvananthapuram MP claimed that his article in an English daily contained no political references and that his focus was solely on Kerala's entrepreneurial and innovation-driven growth, intending to showcase the state's development in that specific area. However, the party mouthpiece appeared to have effectively rejected his clarifications.

The editorial warned that if the Congress-led UDF failed to win the local body elections despite favourable conditions, it would be a major setback for the front. It described any move to undermine its electoral prospects as "ridiculous."

Titled 'Ahimsa Award for the Executioner?' the editorial further argued that when the Congress was actively opposing the shortcomings of the LDF government inside and outside the assembly, it would be "suicidal" to weaken the party from within. PTI

CBI moves HC against acquittal of ex-min A Raja, others in 2G case

New Delhi: The CBI has submitted before the Delhi HC that its appeal against the acquittal of former telecom minister A Raja and 16 others in the 2G spectrum allocation case is "ripe for hearing". Special prosecutor and senior advocate Sanjay Jain, in a recent hearing, urged Justice Vikas Mahajan to either fix multiple dates to hear the matter, which has a voluminous record, or post it to another date. "I request the court to give a bouquet of multiple dates," Jain contended, prompting the HC to then post the matter to March 18.

A special CBI court had on Dec 21, 2017 acquitted former UPA-era telecom minister Raja, now an MP from Nilgiris, DMK MP Kanimozhi, and others in CBI and Enforcement Directorate cases stemming from the alleged scam. The CBI claimed a loss of Rs 30,984 crore to the exchequer in the allocation of licences for 2G spectrum in 2008 on a first-come first-served basis after advancing the cut-off date, which was subsequently scrapped by the top court on Feb 2, 2012.

On March 20, 2018, the CBI moved the HC challenging the acquittal verdict. The HC, in March last year, admitted the CBI appeal, saying there were some contradictions in the trial court judgment that required "deeper examination". PTI

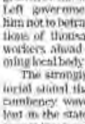
Jamia students boycott classes over suspension of 17 peers, submit memorandum to varsity officials

New Delhi: Several students of Jamia Millia Islamia (JMI) boycotted classes on Monday in protest against the suspension of 17 students for participating in demonstrations against disciplinary action taken earlier against two PhD scholars. Supporting the students, CPI-ML Liberation MP from Bihar's Karakat, Raja Ram Singh, urged Jamia Millia Islamia (JMI) vice chancellor Mazhar Asif to withdraw FIRs against students and remove the university's chief proctor for "illegally publishing personal details of students."

The Left-affiliated All India Students' Association (AISA), which called for the boycott, accused the university of suppressing student activism. "Jamia administration may lock us out but cannot silence our resistance. We refuse to be muted," the student body said in a statement. Protesting students marched from the Hygienic Canteen to the Office of the Dean of Student Welfare (DSW) and submitted a memorandum demanding the immediate revocation of the suspensions. "As the Dean of Students' Welfare, you are supposed to be concerned about the students' welfare. However, the incidents happening on campus against these 17 students do not align with that responsibility," the memorandum read. PTI

Adani visits Tarapur Maharashtra Site, briefed on nuclear energy sector

Palghar: Adani Group chairman Gautam Adani and senior officials visited the Tarapur Maharashtra Site (TMS) to gain insights into nuclear power technology and its operational aspects, as per a Tarapur Atomic Power Station (TAPS) release. The TMS consists of two atomic power stations.



The delegation also included senior officials from Adani Energy, Adani Green, and the energy strategy division of the conglomerate. According to an official communication from the Tarapur Atomic Power Station (TAPS), the visiting officials were briefed about India's nuclear power programme on Sunday.

The session covered the current status of the country's nuclear energy sector, its strategic importance, and future vision.

Senior officials from the Nuclear Power Corporation of India Limited (NPCIL) headquarters, along with the site management, led the presentations.

Adani Group officials were taken on a field tour of the TAPS 3&4 plant areas, where they were given a detailed overview of plant operations. Experts explained the key technological aspects, safety measures, and the role of nuclear energy in India's energy transition, the release stated.

Union finance minister Nirmala Sitharaman proposed to open up the nuclear power sector for private players in Budget 2025-26 and announced a Rs 20,000 crore Nuclear Energy Mission for research in the field, to set up five small and modular reactors by 2033. PTI

Thieves steal 400 pigeons 'worth ₹10L' bred for sport

Meerut: Mohd Qayyum's family in UP's Meerut are into "kabootarbazi" — a traditional sport of pigeon racing since the Mughal era. Keeping the family tradition — going back several generations – alive, he raised hundreds of colourful pigeons of exotic breeds over the years, all housed in coops and cages on the terrace. And every morning, Qayyum, a proud kabootarbaz, made it a point to spend time with his feathered friends – feeding and training them.

On Monday morning, the 65-year-old climbed up the terrace for his daily ritual. But to his surprise, he found that all the cages were empty.

"I found 400 pigeons — valued at around Rs 10 lakh — missing and I was totally shattered. Then I realised they could have been taken away by thieves on Sunday night. Some of the stolen pigeons belong to rare foreign breeds and have participated in several competitions," he said, adding that police were informed and they have launched an investigation.

Meerut SP City, Ayush Vikram Singh, said a formal complaint has been registered at Lisadi Gate police station, and cops are actively working on the case. Singh added: "CCTV footage of the surrounding areas are being scanned to identify the culprits. Prima facie, they used a ladder to climb up the terrace. They had come only for Qayyum's pigeons. Except for the birds, they didn't steal anything else from his house." TNN
