

Rich tributes paid to RG Baruah on 125th birth anniversary

STAFF REPORTER

GUWAHATI, Oct 17: The 125th birth anniversary of Singhapurush Radha Govinda Baruah, the architect of modern Assam, was observed across the State today by paying solemn tributes for his unparalleled contributions to the State's journalism, sports, culture and civic life.

At Dighalipukhuri, admirers, family members and followers gathered near the life-size bronze statue of RG Baruah to offer floral tributes, and recall the vision of the man who shaped much of modern Assam's institutional foundation.

The programme, organized by the Singhapurush Radha Govinda Baruah Smriti Rakhyta Samity, was presided over by its general secretary Bhuban Lahkar, who welcomed the gathering and explained the objective of the commemoration. He spoke of Baruah's rare foresight and his role in building bridges between culture, media and public life.

Among those present were Ritu Baruah, director of The Assam Tribune Group, and RG's great-granddaughter Ragini Baruah. The gathering also included educationists Pramod Chandra Bhattacharya, Professor Sanjib Kumar Sarmah, journalist Roman Sarmah, publisher Rajib Adhikary, Hiranya Barman from Sahitya Prakash, social activist Narayan Roy, and several social activists and admirers of RG Baruah.

The serene surroundings of Dighalipukhuri added a reverent tone to the event as participants paid floral tributes and shared anecdotes from Baruah's remarkable journey.

In the evening, The Assam Tribune campus glowed with the light of earthen lamps lit by employees of the organization as a mark of reverence to the great leader. Staff members also offered floral tributes before the portrait of RG Baruah, whose vision had laid the foundation of the newspaper in 1939.

On the other hand, Assam Sports Day was celebrated at the Guwahati Press Club to mark the birth anniversary of the 'Lion-hearted' Radha Govinda Baruah. The event was organized by the Assam Sports Day Celebration Committee in collaboration with the Bir Chilarai Sports Club. The programme began with a tribute to late music icon Zubeen Garg, and was presided over by Manoj Saikia, chairman of the Assam Livestock Corporation. Those present included educationist Utpal Chakravarty, sports organizer Pradip Kumar Sarma, Anusuya Baruah and Savita Barman Choudhury.

Several personalities from various fields were also felicitated on the occasion including Dr Anjali Sarma Baruah, Abha Saikia, Fariha Rahman, Jyotsna Bezbaruah, Binita Roy, Dhriti Jumi Kalita, Arundhati Bezbaruah, singer Deepak Das, Sharmila Baruah, Eva Boro Dutta, Chemina Begum Khan, Mohibul Haque, Pallabita Bora, Damayanti Boro, Hasmat Ali Ahmed, Dr Nawab Yunus, Mridul Choudhury, Bhargav Sharma and Sanjay Asomiya. Prizes were also distributed to the winners of a painting competition held as part of the celebrations. The event was anchored by Navjyoti Das.

In his address, Manoj Saikia paid rich tributes to Radha Govinda Baruah, recalling his immense contribution to Assam's public life and urging the younger generation to draw inspiration from his ideals and dedicate themselves to the society.

Radha Govinda Baruah, born in Sivasagar in 1900, was a visionary who left an indelible mark on Assam's progress. He founded The Assam Tribune in 1939, which went on to become one of the State's most respected dailies. He later expanded the publication to include the Assamese weekly Asom Bani and the Assamese daily Dainik Asam. Baruah served as the first Mayor of Guwahati and was instrumental in establishing the city's civic framework.

A pioneer in sports promotion, he played a key role in the construction of the Nehru Stadium in Guwahati, organized major wrestling events featuring Dara Singh to raise funds, and founded the Assam Flying Club in 1958 to introduce aviation training in the State. As a cultural reformer, he is credited with bringing the Bihu dance from the rural fields to the stage, giving it a modern, professional platform.

Baruah was also instrumental in setting up the Guwahati Tea Auction Centre. His contributions earned him the title of 'Singhapurush' - the lion-hearted man who built modern Assam brick by brick.

The day's programmes, held in different parts of the city, reflected not just remembrance but a reaffirmation of his legacy.

Clinical Trial Unit inaugurated in AIIMS

STAFF REPORTER

GUWAHATI, Oct 17: Marking a major step toward advancing high-quality, ethical, and patient-centred clinical research in the Northeast region, the All India Institute of Medical Sciences (AIIMS) Guwahati inaugurated its Clinical Trial Unit (CTU) on Wednesday.

Speaking during the inauguration programme, AIIMS Guwahati executive director

Prof Dr Ashok Puranik, said, "This CTU strengthens our mission to translate science into better health outcomes. It will enable investigators to conduct rigorous studies that address regional and national health priorities."

He added that the CTU will catalyze investigator-initiated trials and sponsor-led studies, improve patient access to cutting-edge therapies, and build a sustainable research talent pipeline.

"It will also promote multi-centre collaborations with national networks and global partners to address diseases of regional and national significance," Dr Puranik said.

He said that AIIMS Guwahati serves as a hub for healthcare innovation in the Northeast, fostering collaborations that translate research into improved public health outcomes.

State-level workshop on mathematics concludes

STAFF REPORTER

GUWAHATI, Oct 17: A two-day State-level workshop titled 'Applied Mathematics: The Bridge between Mathematics and Physics' was organized recently under the joint initiative of the Departments of Mathematics and Physics, Borooh College (Autonomous), with financial support from Oil India Limited (OIL) and the Assam Science, Technology and Environment Council (ASTEC).

The workshop, specially designed for students, witnessed the participation of about 60 students from various leading colleges of Assam.

At the inaugural session, principal Dr Satyendranath Barman delivered the inaugural address, highlighting the importance of such workshops in enhancing the academic standards of the college and strengthening its autonomous status.

OIL chief general manager Anirban Bhagawati, who attended the occasion, emphasized the significance of mathematics in the field of applied sciences.

Keynote speaker Dr Hemeswar Kakati, former head of the Department of Physics, Borooh College, elaborated on the interrelation between physics and mathematics, saying, "Mathematics is the language of nature, and through applied mathematics, understanding physics becomes much easier."

Distinguished resource persons present at the workshop included Prof Jiten Kalita from the Department of Mathematics and Prof Saurav Basu from the Department of Physics, Indian Institute of Technology (IIT) Guwahati; Dr Debashish Bhattacharyya from the Department of Mathematics, Gauhati University; Dr Kishor Dutta from the Department of Physics, Handique Girls' College and Dr Diganta Kumar Sarma of Department of Physics, Borooh College (Autonomous).

CSR fund transparency

Centre takes note of Assam lawyer's suggestion

STAFF REPORTER

GUWAHATI, Oct 17: The Centre has taken cognizance of a suggestion made by a Gauhati High Court lawyer on making public details of CSR fund used by companies and planning of schemes by involving the communities.

In a letter to the PMO, advocate Nayan Moni Hazarika had sought amendment in the relevant section of Companies Act, 2013, so that "citizens of the country are properly benefitted by the CSR schemes."

He said that though a company utilizes substantial amount of money under CSR schemes, their utility for communities are doubtful.

"It is also doubtful, if companies are genuinely utilizing the CSR funds for the communities. Prior to utilizing CSR funds, the companies should constitute a committee of local people of that particular area, if need be, with the assistance of the district commissioners for planning and implementing the schemes. The details of the schemes and allocated funds also need to be made public so that people are aware of it," Hazarika suggested.

In response, the Ministry of Corporate Affairs wrote back saying that the suggestion will be considered as and when the relevant rules are amended.

In fact, in an office memorandum, the Department of Legal Affairs of the Ministry of Law and Justice has also forwarded the representation to the Corporate Affairs Ministry, requesting "appropriate action".

KAVACH Lab Model inaugurated

STAFF REPORTER

GUWAHATI, Oct 17: A state-of-the-art KAVACH Lab Model was inaugurated on Friday by the Northeast Frontier Railway (NFR) General Manager, Chetan Kumar Shrivastava, at the Signal and Telecom Specialized Training Centre (STC) at Pandu here.

"The commissioning of this advanced facility marks a significant milestone in Indian Railways' journey towards safer, smarter and more reliable train operations," a railway spokesperson said.

KAVACH, adopted as the National Automatic Train Protection (ATP) System in 2020, is an indigenously developed safety technology. The system is designed to prevent train collisions, ensure strict adherence to signal and automatically regulate train speed to avert potential accidents.

"The newly commissioned KAVACH Lab Model at STC-Pandu is equipped with all essential KAVACH subsystems, including Station KAVACH, Loco KAVACH, Radio Frequency Communication, GSM and GPS antennas, Loco Pilot Driver Machine Interface, Station Master Operation-cum-Indication Panel and a Simulation Panel. The lab has been designed to realistically simulate train movements between stations, providing a comprehensive, hands-on training environment for signal and telecom personnel, loco pilots, assistant loco pilots and other key railway staff associated with KAVACH implementation, operation and maintenance," the official said.

IIE inks MoU with Minority Affairs ministry

STAFF REPORTER

GUWAHATI, Oct 17: The Indian Institute of Entrepreneurship (IIE) signed an MoU with the Union Ministry of Minority Affairs (MoMA) in New Delhi for the implementation of the PM VIKAS (Virasat Ka Samvardhan) scheme.

The strategic partnership aims to promote entrepreneurship development and livelihood enhancement among minority women, with a strong focus on economic empowerment and inclusive growth.

The MoU was signed by MoMA deputy secretary Ankur Yadav and IIE associate faculty member Prasanta Goswami.

"The collaboration marks a significant step towards building sustainable and inclusive entrepreneurial ecosystems, helping women from minority communities harness their potential and heritage for a brighter economic future," an IIE spokesperson said.
