Niti Aayog meeting to focus on human capital

PRASANTA SAHU
New Delhi, April 16

THE NITI AAYOG Governing Council, chaired by Prime Minister Narendra Modi, may meet in June to chart a road map to strengthen India's human capital, with a sharp focus on education, skill-building and future-ready jobs.

In the meeting to be attended by chief ministers, the deliberations will underscore the critical role of knowledge, skills, health and capabilities in driving long-term economic growth.

With nearly 70% of India's population in the working age bracket, policymakers view the demographic dividend as a historic opportunity that must be harnessed through a coordinated, whole-of-government approach. Officials indicated that the Centre and states will deliberate on strategies to modernise education systems, expand skilling initiatives and align workforce capabilities with emerging industry demands. Greater synergies across ministries — including education, skill-development, youth affairs, health and

MEASURING IMPACT

70% of India's working-age bracket (ages 15-64) is a demographic dividend that must be harnessed.

Major thrust is also likely on strengthening self-reliance under the Atmanirbhar Bharat vision.

All states and Union Territories are expected to be nudged to prepare capacity-building plans in collaboration with the Capacity Building Commission.

Aspirin — is expected to be a key priority to ensure seamless delivery across the human capital spectrum.

Another thrust is also likely on strengthening self-reliance under the Atmanirbhar Bharat vision. The Centre and states may jointly identify products for domestic manufacturing to reduce import dependence, while promoting high-quality production standards aligned with the 'Zero Defect, Zero Complaints' principle. Ensuring minimal environmental impact alongside global competitiveness.

In a push for institutional strengthening, all states and Union Territories are expected to be nudged to prepare capacity-building plans in collaboration with the Capacity Building Commission.

The meeting is also set to highlight the growing importance of artificial intelligence in governance and the urgent need to bolster cybersecurity frameworks to safeguard citizens in an increasingly digital ecosystem.

Deliberations will emphasise outcome-oriented governance, with a focus on improving service delivery, simplifying processes and ensuring last-mile access. Data-driven monitoring and enhanced inter-departmental coordination are expected to play a central role in translating policy intentions into tangible impact on the ground. The conference will likely discuss digitalisation, technology in governance, agriculture, tourism development, etc. The discussions aim to promote cooperative federalism and enable states to replicate best practices, ensuring time-bound and tangible progress towards the goal of a developed India.

CM: Maha gov't to support export-oriented food industry

MAHARASHTRA CHIEF MINISTER Devendra Fadnis has said that the state government would extend support to the export-oriented food industry.

"Food is a global soft power," located during the inauguration of the new Citlale Bhandra Mid-Scale manufacturing facility at Kalyan Vision Park in Kalyan, near Pune.

Fadnis highlighted that Citlale Bhandra is successfully promoting Marathi culinary culture as the backbone of its unique brand and quality. The Citlale Group, which began with a single store in Pune, has now expanded its presence to 35 countries. "Over four generations, the Citlale Bhandra have not only maintained their business but have also achieved significant growth. Each generation has faced its unique challenges with courage, building the strong global brand that Citlale represents today," he remarked. He added that no other brand in Maharashtra has inspired as many stories and anecdotes as Citlale, especially with its localisation. TE BUREAU

India, Russia discuss steel sector ties

INDIA AND RUSSIA on Thursday held a round table to strengthen cooperation in the steel sector amid global supply chain challenges, an official release said.

A Russian delegation, comprising representatives from industry and related sectors, joined Indian counterparts for discussions. The meeting enabled constructive engagement and exchange of views as key steel sector issues like raw material sourcing, technological collaboration, equipment manufacturing, and research opportunities, the Steel Ministry said in the release. —PTI

EU examines expansion of CBAM to 180 more items

THE EUROPEAN UNION has started examining the proposal to expand the scope of carbon to another 180 new steel and aluminium products under its June January 2026. The European Parliament's Committee on Environment, Climate and Food Safety has proposed to EU Parliament for expanding the scope of CBAM to account for indirect carbon emissions and rejecting use of international carbon credits for compliance. In a draft report issued on April 10, other reasons that have been proposed are tightening carbon accounting rules for scrap-based production by including emissions from pre-consumption scrap and secondary industrial emissions from electricity use across refineries. TE BUREAU
