Woman dies after being hit by brick from under-construction building

The 34-yr-old was standing at a bus stop with her child on Wednesday when incident occurred

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Kochi

A 34-year-old woman, who was undergoing treatment after a brick from an under-construction building fell on her head, died on Friday. The deceased has been identified as Arya Shyammon, a native of Sathar Island, who was staying at a rented house at Kottuvallikkad near Moothakunnam in Vadakkekara.

The incident occurred on Wednesday evening, while Arya was waiting for a bus near the Mani Bazar bus stop in Munambam with her six-year-old daughter Sivathmika. She was working at a private firm in Munambam.

According to the police and eyewitness accounts, the brick fell from a three-storied building under construction behind the bus stop. Workers had recently completed concrete work on the rooftop and placed a tarpaulin sheet over it. To secure the sheet from being blown away in the wind, they had placed bricks on its corners.

Stills from a footage showing Arya being hit by a brick at a bus stop in Munambam

"One of the bricks used to hold down the tarpaulin was dislodged in the strong wind. Unfortunately, it fell directly on Arya's head while she was standing at the bus stop with her daughter," said Binoy T B, Arya's neighbour and a member of the Kottuvallikkad ward of the Vadakkekara panchayat.

Arya lost consciousness immediately after the impact. She was first rushed to a private hospital in Munambam, along with her daughter who suffered minor injuries. Later, Arya was shifted to another private hospital for emergency surgery. Despite medical efforts, she succumbed to her injuries. Sivathmika was discharged after treatment.

"Arya's husband, Shyammon, works as a driver. The couple were facing financial hardships, with Arya contributing to the family income with her job. Their daughter is a class-II student at a nearby school," Binoy said.

The body was handed over to the family after postmortem and cremated at their residence in Sathar Island on Friday evening.

Dislodged by wind
Bricks were used to hold down a tarpaulin covering the freshly concreted rooftop of the building. One of them got dislodged by the strong winds and fell on Arya's head. Her six-year-old daughter also suffered minor injuries

Meanwhile, the Munambam police have registered a case under Section 125 of the Bharatiya Nyaya Sanhita (BNS), for acts endangering the life or personal safety of others. However, no individual has been named as an accused in the FIR.

"We registered a case soon after the incident. We are investigating the role of the building owner, contractors, and construction workers in the incident. A detailed technical inspection will be carried out, and based on the evidence, appropriate charges will be included," said Jayakrishnan S, DySP, Munambam.

Raging sea floods houses in Njarakkal; heavy rain wreaks widespread damage

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Kochi

THE residents of coastal Ernakulam continue to battle the fury of the sea as raging waves now flood their houses as barricades like geo bags have been swept away.

Four houses near the Jaihind beach in Njarakkal have remained flooded for five days, with the residents left with little food and water left.

"Our house has been flooded since Monday and all our appliances and other household items have been drenched in floodwater. We have difficulty in moving to a relief camp as our sister living next door is bedridden after a surgery and needs proper care," said Mini, who lives with her husband Ratheesh P V, near the beach in Njarakkal.

The local residents fear the situation will worsen if heavy rain persists. Besides areas in Vypeen, several parts of Chelanam also faced a severe attack of tidal waves.

Meanwhile, heavy rain has resulted in widespread damage in different parts of the district. Until 6pm on Friday, Kochi received a rainfall of 23mm. A total of 216 houses were damaged in torrential monsoon rain in the district.

The water level in Muvattupuzha river has exceeded the flood warning level of 10.927m. High tidal waves and rising water levels led to flooding in several low-lying regions in the city and rural areas.

Oppn criticises corp for not completing pre-monsoon cleaning

Kochi: As the main canals in the city, the Thevara Perandoor Canal and the Karanakkodam Canal, are yet to be cleaned, areas adjacent to the canals are experiencing waterlogging, alleged Opposition councillors in the Kochi Corporation. "The Thevara-Perandoor Canal is being cleared of silt at a cost of Rs 50 crore. The work began only a few days ago. The newly purchased weed cutter and silt puller are being used by the CSML in Karanakkodam Canal. Since these machines could not complete mud removal, the corporation had to give another contract for desilting for Rs 28 lakh," said Antony Kureethara, the leader of opposition in the council.

Health dept urges caution against infectious diseases

Kochi: With the state experiencing continuous rain for a week now, the Ernakulam district medical officer, Dr Asha Devi, has urged people to take safety measures to prevent infectious diseases like dengue, rabies, and diarrhoea. She stressed on the importance of public participation in controlling the spread of diseases during the rainy season. "The health department has issued an alert ahead of the rainy season. Preventive activities and source destruction activities are being carried out with the participation of local government institutions, the public, and other voluntary organisations. Everyone should participate in observing dry days for mosquito source elimination at home and institutions," Dr Asha said. The intermittent heavy rain could cause an increase in the number of dengue cases.

Chain snatchers from Delhi caught after rainy day theft spree in Aluva

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Kochi

IN a swift and dramatic operation, police on Friday arrested two inter-state criminals who arrived from New Delhi and carried out a series of chain snatching incidents between Companypady and Nedumbassery on a stolen motorcycle. The arrested individuals have been identified as Arif, 34, from Fatehpur, Uttar Pradesh, and Faisal, 28, from Shastri Vihar, New Delhi.

The police said the duo reached Aluva railway station early on Friday morning and stole a motorcycle parked in the vicinity. Around 8.10am, they committed their first chain snatching near the Companypady bus stop. They then moved toward Chengamanad, where they executed two more snatching incidents in Palapraseri and Mekkad before reaching Nedumbassery, where they snatched another gold chain and attempted a fifth theft.

"They had learned about the heavy rain in Kochi and planned to exploit the weather to their advantage. Their intention was to carry out as many thefts as possible in a single day and return to Delhi soon," said a police officer.

District Police Chief M Hemalatha formed a special task force, and the entire police network, including teams from Aluva, Chengamanad and Nedumbassery, was mobilised. Several CCTV cameras were scrutinised, border checks were set up, and intensive searches were launched through side roads and suspected escape routes.

"The turning point came when the suspects, on their way back to Aluva, were located near Thottakkattukara. The police executed a roadblock and successfully intercepted the duo following a brief vehicle chase. Despite their attempts to flee, officers managed to subdue and apprehend them by 11am," he said.

From their possession, the police recovered snatched gold chains, rings, a gold-weighting device, pepper spray, and tools used for vehicle theft. Investigators later confirmed that two of the stolen ornaments were imitation gold chains.

Bengal native drowns while attempting to clear fishing net from boat's propeller Kochi: A West Bengal native, who was working on a fishing boat operating out of Munambam, drowned on Friday after he jumped into the Veeranpuzha river to clear a fishing net entangled in the propeller of the vessel. The deceased - identified as Rankrishna Biswas, 38, a native of South 24 Parganas in West Bengal - was a crew member aboard a fishing boat named Borris. The accident took place around 10.45am, when the vessel was navigating through Veeranpuzha near Munambam.

Ambulance-motorcycle collision claims life of youth

Kochi: A 22-year-old youth lost his life in an accident after his motorcycle collided with an ambulance near Kannankulangara near Tripunithura late Thursday night. The deceased is Blesson Samson Abraham, a resident of Chittethukadavu, near Tripunithura. The police said the accident occurred around 11.45 pm when an ambulance transporting a patient from the Vaikom side collided with Blesson's motorcycle at Kannankulangara. The impact of the collision caused Blesson to suffer serious head injuries. Though he was immediately rushed to a private hospital at Tripunithura, he succumbed to his injuries.
